

MAYSVILLE, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1915.

ONE COPY—ONE CENT.

HON. EDWIN P. MORROW

Addresses Large and Enthusiastic Audience at the Courthouse Last Night Notwithstanding Downpour of Rain.

He Pays His Respects to Hon. A. O. Stanley and Answers His Speech as to "Invisible Government"—Says Republican Victory Is Sure—Given Rousing Reception.

Hon. Edwin P. Morrow, Republican candidate for Governor, spoke to a crowded house at the Courthouse Thursday night, notwithstanding the heavy downpour of rain.

He was introduced by Hon. W. D. Cochran, who, in a few brief, well-chosen remarks, presented him as the next Governor of Kentucky. At this mention the crowd went wild.

Mr. Morrow was at his best and spoke for about an hour. His speech being punctuated with criticisms of the Democratic party's control of the State government. He paid particular attention to Hon. A. O. Stanley, his opponent, and Hon. Barksdale Hamlett.

Mr. Morrow said in part: It gives him pleasure to come to Maysville and to Maysville, where he was the recipient of kindness and cordiality. I am certain it is with the feeling of kindness I come to you.

Service the Watchword. In every city, town and hamlet wherever he has gone it is because he wanted to be of service to Kentucky. The motive that brought him to Maysville was the motive of service; if it was not for that he would not be present.

He came under no false colors. He is the candidate for Governor on the Republican ticket, and he is proud of it. He is proud of the fact that he is a Republican. Proud of the fact that he is a member of a party not responsible for closed factories and stagnant industries. Proud of the fact that the Republican party has nothing to do with the lamentable conditions prevailing in the country.

Not Abuse, But Logic, Facts and Figures. He was not here as an abusive or vituperative Republican. He hoped the day would soon come when abuse, vituperation and vilification would give way to logic, facts and figures. Neither party has all the honesty nor brains. But somehow the Democrats fail to get results when they have the opportunity. Republican make good. It must be as the little colored boy said, some people just have got more sense than the rest.

One Thing We Agree On. We all agree on one thing. That is there is something wrong with Kentucky—this state of yours and mine. The Lord rested when He made the world, but He smiled when He made Kentucky. We wake up humiliated when we see her three from the last in illiteracy, the very last in preventable disease, back in roads, back in factories, back in pay rolls, the most unjust system of taxation that ever galled the back of a people. We see her surrounded by states peopled by her sons, states, every one of which outstripped her in progress.

One Indictment. One general indictment, for four years a law-making power of the state has passed the golden opportunity of service. They have not had eyes, or having eyes, have not seen the opportunity. They have let the golden opportunity of service go unharvested or have hidden their talent in the dirty napkin of political intrigue. The people have a right to demand of them a record of their stewardship. The opportunity lost and gone. Not a state around Kentucky that has not outstripped her in progressive legislation.

The people of Kentucky have a right and a duty to demand what have they done with my vineyard.

Platform Defined. A party platform is an enunciation of principles by a party and when accepted by the people it becomes a contract.

I charge the Democratic party with a breach of that covenant in the letter and spirit of the contract they made four years ago.

They have broken the covenant with you in the use and misuse of your money.

They promised retrenchment, reform and saving in the public funds. Its fulfillment of that promise has been useless and needless extravagance.

Result, an empty treasury, a bankrupt state, a debt of $3,275,000 on the back of the people.

Second. Broken promises in the matter of taxation—promised relief by Constitutional amendment, and a scientific and equitable system of taxes. The property in sight pays 90 per cent of every dollar of taxes, and hidden property only 10 per cent. Example of Democratic tax law: You pay taxes on your dogs, $110,000—on stock, bonds, stocks and invested wealth you pay $83,000. It is a dog-gone shame.

They (the Democrats) four years ago, promised to pass a proper ballot security law. The ballot was to be kept pure and free from bribe giving and taking. The people voted unanimously for it, and woke up to find themselves made a plaything of by the greatest living forgetter, the Democratic Secretary of State. He forgot to properly sign up the necessary papers, and no one thought to refresh his memory.

Invisible Government.

Four years ago the Republican platform declared: We unqualifiedly condemn and denounce the "Third House," all corrupt lobbying and improper methods used to influence legislation.

Following this declaration the campaign of 1911 was waged, and throughout the entire state in every hamlet and village, the people of Kentucky were told by the Republican candidate for Governor and by myself, as one of his supporters, that Invisible Government was the controlling and dominating factor of the Legislature at Frankfort; that the People's House was polluted by the grafters and the lobbyist, and they were solemnly warned that the election of the Democratic ticket mean the continued sway of this corrupt power. In every county in the State the people were told that the Third House was greater than the People's House, "and cast upon it its dark and damning shadows." This was one of the principal issues of the 1911 campaign. The people of Kentucky either heard not, or hearing, did not believe, and they returned to power the present Democratic administration and gave the Democratic party complete and absolute control of both branches of the Legislature.

So open has this shame become that Colonel Watterson calls the People's House "the Shack that Graft built," and the present Democratic candidate for Governor a year ago, and today, asserts and confesses, that the Legislature of his party has been over-ridden by this same lobby.

It is astonishing that in view of these facts, my distinguished opponent now, as though for the first time, proclaims the existence of "Invisible Government," and now seeks to rise as the champion of the people as though he had discovered the existence of the lobby and was the first to proclaim it.

The return of the Democratic party to power in Kentucky can only mean a return to a party which has suffered and permitted itself to be controlled by the grafters, and to give a vote of approval to a lobby-ridden administration.

Unkept Democratic Promises.

Four years ago the Democratic party promised in its platform: "We favor such laws as will, under appropriate penalties, destroy all corrupt lobbying seeking to influence the legislative body in the Commonwealth, or the election of officers to it."

This promise has been broken and violated, and no anti-lobby law has been passed, yet now we have the spectacle of the same party of broken faith and violated pledges playing with the people of Kentucky, and reiterating this broken promise, and upon this plank in their platform, upon which they stand in open shame, with its confessed breach and the shameful consequences to the good name of Kentucky, we find the doughty champion of Kentucky's Democracy in all his panoply of war, couching his lance, unsheathing his sword and crying aloud: "Lead me to the lobby; it's my lobby, the lobby that has ridden my party—the lobby which my party permitted to exist, it is our child, but I will take its life's blood!" The bounds of the absurd can not go any further. Political demagoguery can not descend any lower, and never in the history of all politics has there been a spectacle so utterly absurd.

We again warn the people of Kentucky of their danger, and if they, by vote of confidence, return to power the party responsible for this open shame, they will deserve Invisible Government in control of their Legislature, and for the Third House to cast again "its dark and damning shadows upon the People's House."

I stand, and my party stands, as we did in 1911, against all corrupt lobbying, and if entrusted with power, we will destroy "the Shack that Graft built," and tear down the Third House to the end that the People's House shall stand alone in the righteous confidence of the citizenry of Kentucky.

A Corrupt Practice Act. In his Glasgow speech, Mr. Stanley said nothing of a Corrupt Practice Act. Four years ago his party promised the people of Kentucky:

"We favor the enactment of an explicit and Corrupt Practice Act, which shall determine what campaign expenses shall be legitimate, and which shall provide for the compulsory publication in detail, under heavy penalties, of all campaign expenses of every candidate for public office."

The years have come and gone, and this promise has been broken. Again we find this year the Democratic party making the same old promise which it has so openly violated.

My party four years ago, and this year, makes the same promise to the people. In compliance with the spirit of this promise I have made a full and complete statement of the amount of my campaign fund, its sources and how it was expended to obtain my nomination. I have given the total as $1,008.00. In view of his party's declaration on this subject, I hope my distinguished opponent will feel himself bound by his party's platform to make a statement as to the amount of his campaign fund, its sources, and how it was expended to obtain his nomination.

The fact that public offices can be bought and sold in Kentucky, that the unlimited use of wealth can debauch the ballot and corrupt the electorate, that candidates for public office can spend every dollar they can get and make every promise they desire, is chargeable to the broken promise of the Democratic party and its willful failure to provide an effective law to prevent these monstrous evils. I ask my distinguished opponent to answer and tell the people of Kentucky why their offices have not been protected and why they are permitted to be bought and sold.

Democratic Platform.

The present Democratic platform contains this language:

"The Democratic State platform of 1911 made covenants with the people, and our State Legislatures have kept

A GREAT REDUCTION

In going over our stock we find that we are OVERLOADED, and have decided to REDUCE STOCK, and it goes at cost.

This space will not permit us to list it all. One great bargain is 100,000 feet of an EXCELLENT GRADE OF OAK SIDING. This goes at $2 PER HUNDRED. All other yard stock greatly reduced.

these covenants."

Is it possible that my distinguished friend knows so little of promise keeping, or that his party knows so little of faith keeping as to proclaim their failure to pass an anti-lobby law and a Corrupt Practice Act "as keeping of covenants?"

This same party in its 1911 platform promised to pass an Anti-Trust Act, to create a Public Utilities Commission, it promised to put into effect all provisions of the Constitution, which would include the passage of an Anti-Trust Act, and they also promised a White Slave Traffic Act. Does my distinguished opponent contend that the failure of his party to fulfill all of these promises "is keeping covenants?"

Will my friend, Mr. Stanley, please explain to the people of Kentucky why he proclaimed the existence of Invisible Government, controlling legislation; the presence of the "Miners and Sappers," and "the Shack that Graft built," when the present declarations of the Democratic party proclaiming that this same lobby-ridden Legislature have "kept all the covenants" made in the Democratic platform. Stanley and Watterson damn the Kentucky Legislature, while the Democratic platform, written by these same gentlemen, proclaims this same law-making body as altogether holy and righteous, the "keepers of covenants."

County Unit. Republicans stand for the county law to be in the hands of its friends and so amended as to make it enforceable. The Democrats stand for the present unit law.

Notice the difference between the two parties' wording.

He has always been for the county unit law, made speeches in 1907 and 1911; has spoken in over a hundred cities and towns.

In closing he paid an eloquent tribute to the manhood of Kentucky. It was one of the best speeches delivered in Maysville in years.

Mr. Morrow left today for Mt. Olivet.

Mr. Elwood Roser Friday morning received a telegram announcing the death at Lexington of his uncle, Mr. Fred Roser. He was well known here and was about 75 years of age.

ELECTION IN THE SIXTH WARD.

As the day draweth nigh for election of Councilmen, candidates in the Sixth Ward seem willing to serve the country.

Those who are mentioned are the present incumbents, who will run upon their records. The new names are Mr. Charles Conrad, of the popular grocery firm of Geisel & Conrad. Then comes Mr. Hall Strode, whose friends think he would be just the man for the place. Mr. John Fansler is prominently brought forward, and no doubt his friends will see to it that he gets the votes coming his way.

There are two or three more who are willing to sacrifice themselves upon the altar of public service, but can not make up their minds just what is the right thing to do.

The Ward is pretty evenly divided upon two issues and the men who make the race will have to face those issues squarely and without equivocation.

Hon. J. P. McCartney, of Flemingsburg, was in this city Thursday on business.

MEDICAL LICENSURE.

The responsibility for the licensing of medical practitioners has been left only by the national government to the individual states; it is left to the state to establish the only legal barrier possible between the public and the thousands who seek authority to treat human diseases. Some states have provided an efficient guaranty that practitioners given the state's endorsement have secured the essential educational qualifications. In some states, however, the responsibility has been taken up in such a happy-go-lucky manner, and the legislation provided is so contrary to effective legal procedure, that the situation would be laughable, were it not for the serious menace to the public. In some states, laws have been passed, admirable in their composition and excellent in their purpose, only to be invalidated by clauses or by other laws exempting the very persons to whom the law should apply. Invariably, the exemptions are of those unable to comply with the educational requirements of the practice act and against whom the people most need protection—those who have had little or no medical training. The making of such exemptions are of those unable to comply with the educational requirements of the practice act and against whom the people most need protection—those who have had little or no medical training. WORLD'S PLAYGROUND

TRANSFORMED INTO A FIGHTING
FORTRESS—SAVAGE WARFARE
PREVAILS AT EVERY POINT.

Washington, D. C.—"The ghostly Dolomites, the wildly splendid ruins of a once mighty Alps, where all the forms the architect ever designed, and many more, cut, in chaotic profusion, into the skies, were, a year ago, a cherished playground of the world, while today, among their crags, peaks and rock splinters, their weather-torn crests and weather-fretted precipices, an inferno of mountain cannons, machine guns and rifles have transformed the playground into the most savage war-theater to be found in all war-ridden Europe."

Thus begins the bulletin issued by the National Geographic Society today, which deals with the terrifying battleground where Austrians and Italians are contesting mountain pinacles, sheer walls of barren rock, glacier crests, and narrow, twisting valleys. The nucleus of the Dolomites is the southeastern part of Tyrol, a region quite as untamed now as when Roman legionaries threaded its dangerous passes with their shields in testudo to guard against rock masses from the heights above.

"The Dolomites are in their nature sinister, cruel, uncanny. Their desolation is weird. The paths among their crags are treacherous. Wind, rain and frost has scarred them with a multitude of shapes, with teeth and claws and ugly wrinkles. Yet, despite the fierce aspect of these mountains, they have fascinated all who have visited them, and brought many tourists back summer after summer for tramps in the bracing air that bathes them and for feasts upon the richly varied scenery which they offer."

"The Dolomites are not the same from year to year. The rock of which they are composed is not as durable as that which enters into the composition of our Rocky Mountains and the Alps. Each year, its thousands of fantastic modellings are carved anew. The strange Dolomite needles become more pointed and longer, while its knife-like ridges run to sharper edges. Its 'tusks,' 'obelisks,' 'pyramids,' 'cathedral spires,' its serrate 'teeth' and etched walls disintegrate noticeably from year to year. Scattered throughout their area are great fields of broken stones, and deep streams of eroded matter slope against their higher walls."

"Titan, the great master of colors, was born in this mountain region. His birthplace was Campo di Sotto or Pieve di Cadore. At least, he spent his boyhood in the latter village, once the capital of a sturdy Dolomite republic, the Republic of Cadore, which was founded 500 years before America was discovered, and which existed for 800 years, losing its liberty to no lesser conqueror than Napoleon, who, at the peace of Campo Formio, in 1797, re-arranged this part of Europe."

"The Latins and the Germans have fought from times immemorial on the Dolomites' cycloplan battleground. A race of warriors grew up in this border land, and, also, one might say, a race of peasant aristocrats. There are humble people here who can trace the family parentage back unbroken through centuries, and who treasure ancient family documents signed by popes and emperors, doges and great nobles. Some of our sturdiest immigrants, Italian, German and Slav, come from these mountain fastnesses. Few of them remain, however, for their wonderful mountain homeland calls them irresistibly after they have made their 'stake.'"

CHEWING TOBACCO AS AN ANTI-SEPTIC.

Chewing tobacco has found an excuse for being. The Panama-Pacific Dental Congress has official authority for its claim to be a preventive of dreaded pyorrhea. To it, and to it alone, specialists attribute the low percentage of pyorrhea among the patients of insane asylums, where the disease is prevalent.

And here are the scientific reasons for its elevation to the high place of "preventive."

"It tends to increase the flow of saliva, exercises the jaws and teeth, and to a certain extent, acts as a cleansing agent and also an antiseptic."

Dr. Frederick Keyes, of Boston, was authority for the statement, made recently before the section on oral hygiene.—Western Tobacco Journal.

TOOTHACHE!—THEN PINCH YOUR TOE!—HOLDILY PUSH BUTTONS PANACEA FOR PAIN, SAYS THIS PHYSICIAN.

Hartford, Conn.—Got hay fever? Stretch your palate.

Front teeth ache? Pinch your thumb.

Goiter neck? Push your pharynx.

These are some of the startling panaceas for pain just announced by Dr. William H. Fitzgerald, of this city. After four years of ridicule in this, his home town, he has obtained a hearing, first from dental bodies, and then from physicians. Only his established reputation as a regular practitioner prevented the latter from laughing him to scorn.

Fitzgerald calls his treatment "zone-therapy." He divides the body into ten perpendicular zones. By pressing on nerves in one of these zones he can relieve pain in other portions of the same zone. If the first joint of the thumb is pressed steadily for three minutes, for instance, pains in the stomach, chest, front teeth, nose and big toe will be relieved!

If you don't believe it, try it!

If the present day "civilization" is any criterion of that of the future we are powerfully glad we will be on hand to share in its triumphs and glories.

There is very little chance of making money from squabs unless through cleanliness pigeons can be kept com-

carefully watched and any sick birds removed from the breeding pens. The house should be kept dry, clean, well yards should be kept clean either by scraping the surface and adding fresh sand or gravel or by cultivating the land and planting it to grain if pos-

be fed.

FACTS ABOUT TOWNS

WHERE SEVERE FIGHTING IS NOW GOING ON IN THE OLD WORLD.

Washington, D. C.—"Semendria,
where the shells from Austro-German batteries fell in preparation for the Teutonic drive toward the Golden Horn, is one of the first commercial towns of Serbia," says a war primer
just issued by the National Geographic Society. "Serbia is an agricultural country. Pigs and grains are its ranking exports, and the greater part of the Serbian export in pigs, and almost all of its export in cereals, passed through Semendria in peace times. Its trade has been done chiefly with Vienna and Budapest. Among its exports are a superior white grape and a delicious wine.

"There is an interesting tradition
connected with the grapes of Semendria.
It is told that the Serbian Prince George Brankovich brought cuttings of the grape vines of Semendria
and planted them upon his sunny estates in Hungary, when he became the lord of Tokay there. This trans-planting of the Serbian grapes took place in the fifteenth century, and it is from these imported vines that Hungary's famous, spicily white wine, Tokay, came. Thus, the little Serbian city is the great ancestor of the Magyar's best known product, the fiery, aromatic glass from Hungary, which is prized by connoisseurs the world around.

"Semendria lies upon the Danube,
between Belgrade and the Iron Gates.
It is distant about thirty miles southeast from the Serbian capital. It is said to stand upon the site of the Roman town Mons Aureus, and legend
has it that its famous grape vines
were planted by the Roman Emperor Probus. Therefrom it may be seen that the royal wine had an imperial beginning, and the perfect product of today can boast a long and glorious past.

"At one time, a powerful fortress guarded the approach to the city. It was a thick-walled, triangular structure, said to have been built in 1430,
and for a long time it was the distinguishing feature of the small place and the river crossing which it guarded. Semendria has been under attack several times in the course of its history, and one battle of great importance took place here in 1411, when the Turks forced a passage into Hungary through a Danube choked with the bodies of the heroic Magyar defenders.

"Semendria has often been a favored residence of the Serbian ruler, and from 1430 to 1459 it was the capital of the state. The town has a picturesque setting upon the broad river, here narrowing for its passage of the Iron Gates just below it. The country around it is broken and wooded.
The population is about 7,500, and despite a thriving wine production and an expanding commerce, this population has remained about the same through the last score of years. The port has a branch line connecting it with the Belgrade-Nish railroad, the main products of the country. Its rugged old triangular fortress still stands, the most interesting architectural feature in the city, and its twenty-four square towers are sentinels of Semendria today as in the days of George Brankovich, 'father of Tokay wine,' who builded them. The fortress was built on the model of the Constantinople walls."

Why don't those free-trade fanatics who eternally prate of being followers of the party policies of Andrew Jackson get Jackson's 1830 message to Congress in which he denounced the free importation of foreign-made goods as "a selfish and destructive policy?" "The right of protecting our people against foreign competition by imposing protective duties" is inviolable, he said.

The war—oh, shut up!

WHY TIMES ARE HARD.

Champ Clark, Speaker of Congress, stated during an interview given in Cincinnati during August that "times are not hard and have not been hard."
Perhaps the Speaker of the House
does not have occasion to come sufficiently close in contact with the facts to know that the above statement is absolutely wrong. During 1914 the free employment agencies of the State of Ohio furnished employment to 62,- 600 men and women, but more than five times as many persons applied for employment than were supplied with work. That means that 310,000 citizens of Ohio were out of work and were compelled to apply to the State to connect them with a job. The list includes 93,000 persons who never before were compelled to apply to a free employment agency. It is safe to assert that more people were out of work in the State of Ohio during 1915 than ever before in the history of the State.
The situation is largely caused by the demagogue, the agitator and the theo-
ret. From such sources comes 99 per cent of the burden and sorrow suffered by people who find themselves without regular means of employment.—Boldt's Bulletin.

The net balance in the Federal Treasury on September 20 was $45,- 907,745, as compared with a balance of $128,487,715 on the corresponding date two years ago when revenue laws
and appropriations enacted by Republican administrations were in effect.
The deficit to September 20 was $35,- 120,396.

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN CRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. F. W. JANSSEN, Box
8, Allyn, Wash.

Why will women continue to suffer day
in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ills
as displacements, inflammation,
ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

DROWNED IN BRUSH CREEK

A TWENTY-YEAR-OLD GIRL MET HER DEATH IN TWELVE INCHES OF WATER.

The body of Mary Ogle, aged 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Love Ogle, was found in Brush creek, above Manchester, Tuesday afternoon.

It is supposed she had attempted to cross the creek on a foot-log and had slipped and fell.

As the water where the body was found was only twelve inches deep, it is thought the young lady was rendered unconscious when she fell and struck the rocks underneath the log.

The band will furnish music for the evening.

Those from a distance were Messrs. Rice Worthington, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mathew Walton, of Lexington, and Mesdames Richard Stephens, of Lexington, and D. Jefferson, of Paris.

CIRCUIT COURT TODAY.

The Mason Circuit Court will reconvene today after a few days' lay-off. The remainder of the criminal cases on the docket will be heard if there is time. If not, they will be continued until the March term of the court. This will, no doubt, be done, as the docket is the largest in the history of the county and the time remaining will not be sufficient to allow the court to hear all the cases.

COMMENCING TO LOOK ROSY.

Work on the belated Limestone bridge is commencing to look rosy. Thursday the contractors had a rather large force of men employed on the repair work, while Contractor Simon Crowell had a crew of painters busy, giving the bridge a good scraping and painting. At the present rate of procedure it will not be many days before the bridge will be open to traffic.

LET US SEE IT.

A few days ago the pupils of the Maysville Public School dedicated a flag and ran it up on the large flag pole, erected on the campus of the High School for that purpose. Since the afternoon of the dedication the flag has been down. Several pretty days have passed, but no flag. What's the matter? Let us see it.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT.

In undertaking the management of Hayswood Hospital, the Board of Directors had in mind but one object, to be better able to carry on the work of improving the health of the community and to care for persons unable to care for themselves. They fully appreciate the fact that it means additional responsibility and work, but they feel sure that the generous people of Mason county will rally to their support. We have heard many expressions of approval of the plan and we now ask our citizens to come forward with liberal donations. Send your donation to the Mason County Public Health League, Maysville, Ky. Respectfully,
THE FINANCE COMMITTEE.

REHEARING REFUSED.

The Court of Appeals on Thursday refused the petition of the wets for a rehearing of the local option case. Unless the case is appealed to the United States Supreme Court, Maysville and Mason county will be dry in thirty days.

"THE CLIMBERS" is a photoplay for the masses because it preaches a powerful sermon.
